Bright future prospects

High-end storage and efficient logistics in the ELBA plant Gelsenkirchen.

ELBA starts with a new look – just in time for the product catalogue 2005. The ELBA logo with its new and modern colours supports the unified, European appearance of the brand and attracts positive attention. But there were some considerable changes in the company itself.

By rebuilding the ELBA administration in the main processing plant in Gelsenkirchen in a record building time of only 4 months, Elba turned into a slim and powerful organisation dedicated to customer service. But that is not enough: by combining the locations of production and administration, all company processes could be optimised.

In addition, the brand ELBA will further distinguish itself in all European countries. In order to meet the high standards of the European markets, ELBA further extended and optimised the assortment for 2005. The introduction of the new PP product range PROLINE and the extension of the index and cover assortment are examples that that task is fulfilled. And all the time, ELBA focuses on the local requirements of the customer, utilising the synergetic effects within the Groupe Hamelin.

The ELBA administration building in Gelsenkirchen – a modern and efficient rotunda.

European strategy for local markets

Filing Division of the GROUPE HAMELIN is one of the leading manufacturers of office supplies in Europe. As well as the locations shown above, production also takes place in Malaysia and Tunisia. The companies of the group offer a comprehensive assortment of files and ring binders, suspension files, covers, display books, folders and pockets, dividers and indexes. Due to the decentralised company philosophy, the focus is on the local and regional requirements of the customers and the assortments are aligned accordingly.

With the help of the synergetic effects between the sister companies, a very broad spectrum of products can be produced to match the market requirements. For the year 2005, ELBA used the synergies in order to extend their index and cover assortment. At the same time, the European product range PROLINE, which will hit the markets all over Europe in 2005, was developed and realised within the division.

> Flat filing
Simple and easy to use.

> Spiral flat filing
By releasing the compressor bar, the spiral can be used like a ring – you can turn over the pages just like in a ring binder.

> Hook in flat filing
Files with this kind of system can be clipped into lever arch files. The spring prevents the clip from falling off.

> Eyelet flat filing
Metal eyelets assure secure filing of folders in lever arch files. It is impossible to tear the perforation.

The ELBA doccu series – highest level of functionality in a fine design

The ELBA doccu series provides you with the organisational talent that is appropriate to each project. You can file your documents in the doccu project file (choice between 7 and 12 compartments) or – for very large projects – take advantage of the doccu project organiser. The flexible fabric covers ensure maximum filing volume.

All doccu products have compartments for business cards, 1 diskette and 1 CD-ROM as well as a large pocket on the inside cover for loose sheet filing. The silver-grey elastic ensures that nothing is lost.

> The ELBA "pendel" file system
Folders, files and pockets are fitted with metal runners. With those, they can be hung next to each other on a rail in cabinets or shelves. Now it is possible to store larger amounts of big, individual files. Up to seven layers of documents can be organised on top of each other.

> The ELBA tric modular system
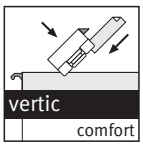
The documents to be filed will be stored inside the tric containers, in archives or offices. The system is especially space-saving, as the containers can be firmly stacked horizontally and vertically.

Organisation of the individual workplace



The suspension filing system is said to be the most economic and flexible work place archiving system. Files, pockets and folders and, for extensive operations, collectors and lever arch files, hang one after another in special cabinets or drawers.

The possibility to clearly mark the individual containers with tabs, bars, labels and coloured tabs guarantees an excellent overview, making the suspension file system ideally suited for those office processes that are accessed often and quickly, as for example customer files, price lists, current jobs, offers etc.

Files, pockets and folders are very flexible and adjust to the volume of the documents. They can be perfectly labelled with organisational bars and coloured signals, which again provides great dating possibilities. The suspension file system is the perfect filing system for the individual workplace, thanks to its clear structure and quick accessibility.

Organisation of the department

The magazine filing system is the ideal archiving system for individual files in department or central archives. Files and folders serve as archiving containers, which can be individually placed into the single cassettes. This system makes it possible to directly access individual processes, or the whole cassette at once.

The files and folders can be used to archive large amounts of loose or stapled documents up to format DIN A4. The system is perfectly suited for loose sheet filing, as the documents do not have to be punched or stapled, which considerably shortens the handling time. Clear marking thanks to push-on respectively adhesive signals as well as labels also provide an excellent overview and fast retrieval.

The cassette filing system allows a continuous use of the files and folders – from workplace to central archive – and thus makes it an ideal organisation system for any office.
